ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This is the first comprehensive public catalog of the Armed Forces Radio Service “Magic Carpet” series R-4 and the AFRS “Teentimers Club” series. The author is releasing the information in stages as documentation of all 1,020 “Magic Carpet” programs are completed. The expertise, knowledge, and guidance of colleagues Bengt Olsson and Karl Pearson are appreciated.

The late Lothar Polomski of Berlin, Germany, prepared comprehensive “Magic Carpet” and “Teentimers Club” documentation, which he gave to Carl Hallstrom in 1977. Carl entrusted the research to the author in 2012. Lothar’s research is - in part - the foundation for this report. In turn, extensive information is added from the significant collections gathered and processed by the author for the Glenn Miller Collections, including contributions from Edward Burke, Walter Scott, and Richard Sherwood Sears. The author has also compiled documentation from the Library of Congress and the National Archives of the United States.

A special thank you to Dr. Michael Arie of Vienna, Austria, for his generosity in providing scans of “Magic Carpet” disc labels, access to his “Magic Carpet” transcription discs, and digital preservation transfers. Thanks to D. Russell Connor and Harry MacKenzie for their stellar leadership in AFRS and network radio documentation. Among many other original AFRS programs, “Magic Carpet” recordings can be heard on “The Star-Spangled Radio Hour,” which is broadcast and streamed online weekly by the author:

1. INTRODUCTION

During the summer of 1945, homeward bound U.S. military poets who shared this sentiment:

*“Those who want to be a hero ...
They number almost zero ...
Those who want to be civilians...
Gee—they number in the millions!”*

The USS Saratoga transports American service personnel home
(NARA)

Operation Magic Carpet was the name of the demobilization and return of the 8 million American military personnel that were overseas following the end of World War II hostilities (16 million Americans total were in uniform). Hundreds of troop transports, cargo vessels including Liberty and Victory ships and ultimately warships, assault transports and hospital ships were used in the movement of personnel. The operation started in June 1945 and was completed in September 1946.

In addition, the operation returned in the other direction over four million German and Italian prisoners of war home from the United States. The operation also transported 500,000 war brides who had married American servicemen to the United States. American personnel were prioritized for shipment home by a system called the "Advanced Service Rating Score". Enlisted men needed a score of 85 points to be considered for demobilization. The scores were determined by the following formula:

Months in service = 1 point per month

Months in service overseas = 1 point per month

Combat awards (including campaign medals and battle stars) = 5 points per award

Dependent child under 18 = 12 points

The operation initially did not include the Navy because the war in the Pacific was still being fought. The Merchant Marine was initially responsible for returning troops home from the European Theater of Operations (ETO). During the war approximately 148,000 GIs were shipped to the ETO per month. Operation Magic Carpet averaged 435,000 GIs per month on the return voyages. Following the surrender of Japan, the Navy joined the operation. At the height of the movement more than 400 ships including large ocean liners were involved in the European operation. The aircraft carrier USS Saratoga alone brought over 29,000 GIs home. The Navy converted 369 ships into temporary transports.

The Army Air Forces' Air Transport Command (ATC) and the Naval Air Transport Service (NATS) flew millions of hours to bring personnel home, prioritizing serious medical evacuation cases.

AFRS MAGIC CARPET

D M S

The Armed Forces Radio Service (AFRS) started to produce a series of edited big band commercial network sustaining broadcasts during 1945 that was named "Magic Carpet" in honor of the homecoming service personnel. Apparently similar to the ongoing AFRS series "One Night Stand", the "Magic Carpet" programs were 15 minutes in length rather than 30 minutes and were thus almost completely edited versions of the normal 30-minute band remotes of that era. The "One Night Stand" programs were generally made up of complete programs although they, too, included edited content with individual songs cut and pasted from different original broadcasts. There is no specific documentation as to why AFRS decided to produce a duplicate big band sustaining remote series. AFRS "Magic Carpet" was produced from 1945 through 1948 and documentation of the series has historically been elusive and incomplete. Magic Carpet was labeled AFRS Series R-4 in 1948. The "Magic Carpet" discs are 16-inch AFRS transcriptions. Unlike other AFRS-dubbed series from network broadcasts, there is no consistent or clear chain of custody or chronological order in the assembled AFRS transcription discs. There is also circumstantial evidence that in some instances, "Magic Carpet" and "One Night Stand" source materials were duplicated.

AFRS TEENTIMERS CLUB

“Teentimers, Inc. (Teentimers Club)” debuted over NBC November 24, 1945 and was directed toward teenage audiences. The program was preceded by “The Teentimers Show”, which aired from August 25, 1945 through November 17, 1945. Name bands appeared on the “Teentimers Club” program, which was broadcast Saturday mornings at 11:00-11:30 am and generally originated in New York, although some programs originated from other locations. AFRS started using the series for rebroadcasts in June 1946 with the May 11, 1946 NBC broadcast from Philadelphia featuring Gene Krupa and his Orchestra. Ex-AAF singer Johnny Desmond who had already appeared on several NBC programs before and following his discharge in November 1945 was a hot commodity and selected to host the program because of his perceived appeal to teenage girls. Jane Harvey, formerly with Benny Goodman, was also a featured vocalist on the program. The announcer was ex-AAF announcer Tom Hudson, and the scriptwriter was Gerald Holland. Desmond left the program after a short time for other commitments and ex-AAF announcer and actor John Conte replaced him on the program. Later, singer Gordon MacRae joined the program. The program contained public service messages emphasizing racial and religious tolerance. “Teentimers Club” was broadcast by NBC until August 17, 1947. There were other local radio teenage programs on the air at this time and they were the forerunners of the programming genre that led to ABC’s “American Bandstand” hosted by Dick Clark, which originated in Philadelphia.

AFRS RELEASES / 15-MIN. PAIRINGS

AFRS-released “Magic Carpet” programs paired on either side of a 16” transcription disc either together with another “Magic Carpet” program or with “Jimmy Carroll Sings” and “Teentimers Club” episodes. The master AFRS release list of issued 16” 33rpm transcriptions is contained in Part 5 of this report for reference of the pairings. 30-minute AFRS programs such as “One Night Stand” used both 15-minute sides of the transcription discs.

ABOUT THE TRANSCRIPTION DISCS

“Magic Carpet” was a 15-minute program that used one side of a 16-inch transcription disc. “Magic Carpet” programs were generally paired with one another on either side of a transcription disc. In two series of pairing, “Magic Carpet” programs were also paired with two other AFRS series, first, “Jimmy Carroll Sings”, and then “Teentimers Club”. Every third “Jimmy Carroll Sings” title appears paired with a “Magic Carpet” episode and every “Teentimers Club” program was paired with a “Magic Carpet” episode. “Jimmy Carroll Sings” was a CBS network series, and “Teentimers Club” was an NBC network series that were copied and dubbed by AFRS with commercial content removed.

The matrix numbers beginning with the code SUR means that the programs were dubbed at Universal Recorders (code: UR). The numbers show the day of dubbing. The Magic Carpet programs were initially produced seven days per week as can be noted in the chronology from the matrix numbers.

INSIDE ORCHESTRAS – MUSIC

D M S

GIs in the Tokyo area are being served by recorded shows over the Armed Forces Radio Network, apparently are keeping up with current U.S. bands and music. In a' poll recently conducted, they put Woody Herman at the top the heap, and Glenn Miller, Harry James, Duke Ellington, Stan Kenton Tommy Dorsey, Benny Goodman, Charlie Barnet, Louis Jordan and Count Basie stringing after. Disk shows are conducted by Sgt. Walter Kaner, who's called "Tokyo Mose."⁸

CBS BUILDS DORIS DAY

"Doris Day, ex-vocalist with Les Brown's orchestra, will be the subject of a concentrated buildup by CBS. Her initial chore is. a spot on the new Jack Kirkwood show, Monday at 9:30 p.m., originating in Hollywood program teed of Monday (8). Brown's orchestra, which Miss Day left before it started on a string of one-nighters west toward a July 23 opening at the Palladium Ballroom, Hollywood, now has Ann Russell temporarily in the vocal spot. Miss Day may rejoin the band for the Palladium run only."¹⁹
